

SCHOLARSHIPS FELLOWSHIPS GRANTS

Welcome to the Guide to Grants-Scholarship Edition!

I am honored to represent the 7th Congressional District of Alabama. It is my top priority to provide you with the information needed to ensure that every student has the resources to reach their God-given potential.

With the cost of college tuition at an all-time high, securing scholarships and other means of financial assistance is more important than ever before.

I am thrilled to provide information to students and parents by identifying available scholarships, internships, and fellowships.

The Guide to Grants-Scholarship Edition will include links to agencies and resources to help make your search for financial education assistance more successful. This guide will also act as a resource for institutions of higher education to provide financial opportunities for students, by submitting information to our grants department at Melinda.Williams@mail.house.gov

Stay up to date with the latest information at <http://sewell.house.gov> Please continue to let us know when grants/scholarships are awarded, especially if you found the opportunities in the Guide to Grants.

To subscribe to Guide to Grants, sign up on our website or call us at 205.254.1960.

Congressional Black Caucus Foundation

NREI John R. Lewis Social Justice Policy Fellowship

Deadline: Continuous, waiting for future months application to open

The NREI John R. Lewis Social Justice Policy Fellowship is a Congressional Black Caucus Foundation, Inc. (CBCF) program designed to give young, Black professionals the opportunity to work in Congress and with the Foundation to address social justice and racial equity issues that affect the Black community. Distinguished by two six-month rotations, Social Justice Fellows are placed in the U.S. Congress with Congressional Black Caucus members and the CBCF's Center for Policy Analysis and Research (CPAR) for a total of 12 months.

CBCF Fellowship Program

Deadline: Continuous, waiting for future months application to open

CBCF Offers three Fellowship Types:

1) Congressional Fellows: John R. Lewis Social Justice Fellows

Congressional and NREI Fellows are placed in the Senate, House of Representatives and other select offices to become the next generation of leaders in public service. The program is an intensive 12-month policy training and leadership development program which enables Fellows to receive hands-on public policy training as full-time legislative aides and policy analysts.

Amount: $60,000-$70,000

2) Research Fellows: CPAR Transportation Equity Fellow (Sponsored by State Farm)

*(one full year conducting research with CPAR).

Finally, CBCF also offers Research Fellowships, which are an opportunity to engage in a one-year research Fellowship with our Center for Policy Analysis and Research. This opportunity does not include a rotation in a Congressional office, as applies with the Congressional and NREI Fellowship Opportunities.

Applications received after August 15 will be considered for the following year's scholarship. The scholarships are designed for degree or non-degree study. Non-degree study would include professional development programs and workshops that have associated participation costs such as public speaking, PMP, graphic design, accounting/excel courses.

Section II: FELLOWSHIPS/ AWARDS

National Endowment for the Humanities

Fellowships support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both. Recipients usually produce articles, monographs, books, digital materials, archaeological site reports, translations, editions, or other scholarly resources in the humanities. Projects may be at any stage of development.

July

Fellowships Open Book Program

Deadline: July 10, 2024

Maximum award amount: $6,600

The Fellowships Open Book Program is a limited competition designed to make outstanding humanities books digitally available to a wide audience. By taking advantage of low-cost e-book technology, the program will allow teachers, students, scholars, and the public to read humanities books that can be downloaded or redistributed for no charge. This program is open to publishers who have published within the last seven years (or will publish during the period of performance) a book supported by one of the following NEH programs.

Humanities Collections and Reference Resources

Deadline: July 16, 2024

Maximum award amount: Planning= $50,000 & Implementation= $350,000

HCCR advances scholarship, education, and public engagement in the humanities by helping libraries, archives, museums, and historical organizations across the country steward important collections of books and manuscripts, photographs, sound recordings and moving images, archaeological and ethnographic artifacts, art and material culture, and digital objects. NEH encourages collaboration between smaller and larger repositories, as well as between humanities experts, information professionals, and community stakeholders to expand participation in cultural heritage and promote engagement with primary sources. You should prioritize methods that allow for sharing and the interoperability of information and resources to ensure their long-term availability.

August

Public Scholars

Deadline: August 28, 2024

Maximum award amount: $5,000 per month

The Public Scholars program offers grants to individual authors for research, writing, travel, and other activities leading to the creation and publication of well-researched nonfiction books in the humanities written for the broad public. Writers with or without an academic affiliation may apply, and no advanced degree is required. The program encourages non-academic writers to deepen their engagement with the humanities by strengthening the research underlying their books, and it encourages academic writers in the humanities to communicate the significance of their research to the broadest possible range of readers. NEH especially encourages applications from independent writers, researchers, scholars, and journalists.

Graduate Education in the Humanities: A National Convening

Deadline: August 6, 2024

Maximum award amount: $500,000

Graduate Education in the Humanities: A National Convening will support the design, development, and implementation of a national convening on the state of, and prospects for, higher education in the humanities. Under the direction of a steering committee and related working groups, the national convening will provide participants the opportunity to explore current challenges and share best practices; offer guidance for graduate programs, departments, and other interested stakeholders; and help develop a strategic vision for graduate education in the humanities. In addition, the recipient will publish and disseminate a report based on the findings of the steering committee, working groups, and national convening.

Fellowship Programs at Independent Research Institutions

Deadline: August 14, 2024

Maximum award amount: up to $565,000

The Fellowship Programs at Independent Research Institutions (FPIRI) program supports institutions that provide fellowships for advanced humanities research in the U.S. and abroad, foster communities of intellectual exchange among participating scholars, and provide access to resources that might otherwise not be available to the participating scholars. In evaluating applications, consideration is given to the library holdings, archives, special collections, and other resources—either on site or nearby—that institutions make available to fellows. FPIRI fellowship tenure must be continuous and last from four to twelve months. Residential fellows are expected to be in residence during their entire tenure period and to work on their projects on a full-time basis. Likewise, nonresidential NEH-funded fellows are expected to work on their projects on a full-time basis. If a fellow is obliged through special circumstances to depart before the end of the tenure period, he/she shall receive a prorated stipend.

The Public Humanities Projects Program

Deadline: August 14, 2024

Maximum award amount: up to $1,000,000

The Public Humanities Projects program supports projects that bring the ideas of the humanities to life for general audiences through public programming. Public Humanities Projects supports projects in three categories (Exhibitions, Historic Places, and Humanities Discussions), and at two funding levels (Planning and Implementation). Proposed projects may include complementary components: for example, a museum exhibition might be accompanied by a website or mobile app.

Media Projects

Deadline: August 14, 2024

Maximum award amount: up to $1,000,000

The Media Projects program supports the development, production, and distribution of radio programs, podcasts, documentary films, and documentary film series that engage general audiences with humanities ideas in creative and appealing ways. Projects must be grounded in humanities scholarship and demonstrate an approach that is thoughtful, balanced, and analytical. Media Projects offers two levels of funding: Development and Production.
