UNDERSTANDING THE MARKETPLACE

The Health Insurance Marketplace is a way to find coverage that fits your budget and meets your needs. Whether you're uninsured, underinsured, or just want to explore your options, the Marketplace will help find coverage that's right for you. Here's a quick look at the most important things you need to know about the Health Insurance Marketplace.

- When you fill out the Marketplace application, you will be told if you qualify for:
 - Private insurance plans. You'll find out if you qualify for lower costs based on your household size and income. If you don't qualify for lower costs, you will still be able to use the Marketplace to buy insurance. Plans cover essential health benefits, pre-existing conditions, and preventive care.
 - Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). These programs cover millions of families with limited income. If you think you qualify, your state agency will be contacted and they'll contact you. Alabama has chosen not to expand Medicaid at this time.
- No matter what state you live in, you can use the Marketplace. In Alabama, the Marketplace is run by the federal government. Alabama does not have its own Marketplace.
- Most people must have health coverage or pay a fee. If you don't have coverage in 2014, you'll have to pay a fee of $95 per adult and $47.50 per child, or 1% of your income (whichever is higher). The fee increases each year. In 2015, it'll be $325 per person, or 2% of your income (whichever is higher). If you apply in the Marketplace in Alabama and are denied because you fall in the Medicaid gap, you will be exempt from this fee.
- You're considered covered if you have Medicare, Medicaid, CHIP, any job-based plan, any plan you bought yourself, COBRA, retiree coverage, TRICARE, VA health coverage, or some other kinds of health coverage.
- If you're eligible for job-based insurance, you can consider switching to a Marketplace plan. Unless the job-based plan is unaffordable or doesn't meet minimum requirements, you won't qualify for lower costs based on your income. You also may lose any employer contributions to your premiums.
- If you have a qualifying life event, (like moving to a new state, getting married, having a child, or losing health coverage), you can get a Special Enrollment Period. This means you can enroll in or change your plan outside Open Enrollment.
- Private Health Insurers in Alabama include: Assurant Health, Cigna-HealthSpring Humana, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Alabama and United Healthcare

CHOOSING A HEALTH PLAN

The Health Insurance Marketplace offers different types of plans to meet a variety of needs and budgets. Before you enroll you will get a clear picture of what premiums you will pay and what benefits and protections you'd qualify for. Compare plans based on what's important to you, and choose the combination of price and coverage that fits your needs and budget.

As you shop for a plan, keep these things in mind:

- All plans in the Marketplace offer the same set of essential health benefits
These are many of the benefits that people need when receiving care. They cover issues like doctor's visits, prescriptions, hospitalizations, pregnancy, and more.

Plans can offer benefits, such as vision, dental or medical management programs for a specific disease or condition. Specific benefits, however, vary from state to state. As you compare plans, you will see what benefits each plan covers. This will be helpful if you have specific health care needs.

- Plans come in 4 categories

When you compare plans in the Marketplace, they're put into 4 categories based on how you and the plan can expect to share the costs for health care:

1. Bronze
2. Silver
3. Gold
4. Platinum

The category you choose affects how much your premium costs each month and what portion of the bill you pay for things like hospital visits or prescriptions. It also affects your total out-of-pocket costs – the total amount you'll spend for the year if you need lots of care. The categories don't reflect the quality or amount of care the plans provide.

- Balancing monthly premiums with out-of-pocket costs

As with all health plans, you'll have to pay a monthly premium. It's also important to know how much you have to pay out-of-pocket for services when you get care.

- Premiums are usually higher for plans that pay more of your out-of-pocket medical costs when you get care. For example, if you have a Gold plan, you will likely pay a higher premium, but may have lower costs when you go to the doctor or use another medical service.
- With a bronze plan, you will likely pay a lower premium, but a higher share of the costs when you receive care.
- Platinum plans will likely have the highest monthly premiums and lowest out-of-pocket costs. The plan will pay more of the costs if you need a lot of medical care.

In general, when choosing your health plan, remember: The lower the premium, the higher the out-of-pocket costs. The higher the premium, the lower the out-of-pocket costs.

- Do you expect a lot of doctor's visits or need regular prescriptions?

If you do, you will need a Gold or Platinum plan. They are likely to have higher premiums, but you could pay lower out-of-pocket costs for each visit, prescription, or other medical service. If you don't, you may prefer a Bronze or Silver plan. Your monthly premiums will most likely be lower, but you will probably pay more of the cost when you see a doctor.

- You may qualify for lower costs on your health coverage

After you fill out a Marketplace application, you will find out if you're eligible for lower costs on your monthly premiums. You can learn more about how to get lower costs in the Marketplace at HealthCare.gov.

- You're not required to buy health insurance if you can't afford it.

If you don't qualify for Medicaid or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) coverage, and you aren't eligible for lower costs through the Health Insurance Marketplace, you still have options. You can apply for an exemption so you won't have to pay a fee for going without coverage.
